

Right Start Foods helps ensure no student eats alone through We Dine Together and Be Strong's 5th Annual event live from Houston Texas

Hauppauge, New York, USA – October 29th, 2019: Right Start Foods ("Brand of Global Food Solutions") today announced its commitment to ensuring no student ever eats alone, through supporting the Houston Texas edition of We Dine Together and for Be Strong Live's 5th Annual Free National Event for Bullying Prevention Month, live from Houston Texas.

October is Bullying Prevention Month, and this year, top Houston government, education, and nonprofit officials convened at the national assembly for bullying prevention and resiliency on October 17 at Alley Theatre presented by Be Strong. This year over seven hundred students gathered in person and was provided free on a live stream to over one million students to hear messages of empowerment and resilience. Right Start Foods provided free meals to each student attending the assembly and presented the We Dine Together dinner on October 16, where city officials and nonprofit leaders come together to discuss bullying prevention and awareness initiatives to help empower and protect students in Houston Texas and around the USA.

"We are thrilled and honored to support this important event, which combines teaching resilience with the power of coming together over food," said Michael Levine, Chief Executive Officer of Right Start Foods and Global Food Solutions all brands. "Our ongoing focus is to ensure all kids have an opportunity to eat healthy, nutritious meals that fuel their learning every day, and we are proud to sponsor Houston's We Dine Together and Be Strong Live events to help ensure no student eats alone, and to further support bullying prevention and awareness in our community."

"Be Strong is committed to equipping and encouraging students to be resilient leaders, who not only address bullying for themselves, but also for their schools," said Ashleigh Cromer, Executive Director, Be Strong.

Right Start Foods brand and Global Food Solutions is an active sponsor and advocate of Be Strong and anti-bullying programs across America, having recently supported past events in New York and Florida. This year marks the third year Right Start Foods has been the food sponsor Be Strong events, which was founded in 2014.
